Last Updated: 11/10/12 11:13am Alan Pardew: Toasted with Newcastle fans Newcastle United boss Pardew returns to the city of his birth tomorrow for the first time since joining from Southampton in September 2010. After taking the club from the Championship to the Premier League, Pardew's side have recorded only one win in 12 games, leading to the Newcastle boss' departure from St James' Park in April 2012. But Pardew has been greeted by the Toon Army in London with a toasting at the after-match party and he has used the word "unforgettable" to describe his time in Tyneside. "It was a great time. I don't think any football manager would say that anything they do here is anything other than the most special time," said Pardew. "They were the best supporters I've ever known. I'm really proud to be part of the Newcastle United history and know that's going to be part of my future, and the future of the club. "We have a great set of supporters. My son is heavily into the world of Newcastle United and he has a photo gallery of every single player we've ever signed. "There's plenty to cherish. There are lots of a1d647c40b
