The Padlock With Registration Code

The Padlock is a compact and portable software application that protects the security of your files and folders by locking them. It comes packed with a simple configuration set that can be tweaked by anyone, regardless of experience. As there is no installation involved, you can put the executable file anywhere on the hard disk and just click it to run, as well as save it to a USB flash disk or similar storage unit, in order to run it on any machine effortlessly, provided that it has.NET Framework installed. What's worth taking into account is that the Windows registry does not get updated with new entries, and no additional files are created on the HDD, leaving it clean after removal. At startup you are required to specify the password that will be asked for each time you access The Padlock, as well as assigned to all protected files and folders. The interface is represented by a single window with a plain layout, where you can lock as many files and folders as you want with the click of a button after dragging them into the main frame. Unlocking them is done in a similar manner. By default, locked files and folders become invisible. This option can be changed from the "Settings" panel. In addition, you can disable The Padlock from automatically exiting when it's idle, as well as change the interface language and master password. There are no other notable options available.
