COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PRINCIPLES Introduction. The main goal of community development work is to create close-knit, active and sustainable communities. I know it's not easy and it took me a long time to realize that people won't act on my commands. But I am confident that the community that I have formed will actively develop and benefit all of its members. How did I come to this? I know about my character, about the peculiarities of my thinking, about the limited opportunities and resources that I have. And I know that I can not only make decisions, but also work together with other people to make decisions.
