I do not want to just add a literal newline every time). What I have done is: print(os.linesep * 2 + " ") and it will print two newline characters. I am trying to get it to print four newline characters. Is there an easier or better way of doing this? A: Try: print(os.linesep * 4 + " ") Explanation: >>> print("hello world") hello world >>> print(os.linesep * 4 + " ") hello world Hugh Jackson (art historian) Hugh Jackson (1935–2001) was an English art historian and keeper of the collections at the Museum of London. Life Born in London on 24 October 1935, Jackson was educated at Hulme Grammar School, Manchester Grammar School and University College, Oxford. in your life, and the other that you know you might not know, but that you still haven't figured out. The movie is a romantic comedy from India's top director David Dhawan, who combines a unique style with the same down-to-earth feel of his earlier films. Dhawan shows his comedic chops by taking a raw material that's a sequel to his 2003 hit and polishing it off. Synopsis Pre-release The movie starring Akshay Kumar, Priyanka Chopra and Salman Khan, originally planned for a July 9 release, was put up for screening on July 8, 2014 by a peer group organization, a film development organization that develops and promotes films for distribution. The screening was later pulled out for changing key elements, a move which brought a lot of disrepute for the peer group organization, Film and
