Following the success of "Dream Daddy", the development team have developed a new story and created their first large-scale fantasy RPG. After building a new story, they expanded the styling and the characters of the product, making a unique product suitable for "genre fans" and "a digital painting-type" game style players!

After reviewing the majority of games in its kind, and considering the market's needs, the team realized that a fantasy story was more appropriate than an atmosphere-like story, and implementing a golden key play, sales of this product in the world are expected to exceed two figures.
