reasons that only a scientist could understand, he refused to have a human being for a father. Albeit, he was a motherly type. He used to be one of the scienceheads from the future. It was rumored, that his parents were killed and he was raised in an orphanage. He has pretty much nothing in common with someone whose name sounds like a dirty word. Josh is great when he's on the team and especially on the ice. Outside of that, he doesn't do much else. You can expect to find him in the coffee shop or doing some sort of research project. He once witnessed the exchange of plans between the two teams. He didn't know what was going on, but one thing is for sure, that he was not going to tell anyone. The group's resident scientist. He can look at anything, see details, or know very little. You can help him find out what's happening in the rest of the world or find out what he knows. He's the first one to stick his nose in. Occasionally he'll make a joke or two, but mostly he just likes to do his own thing. Occasionally, you might find him in his lab. A very close friend and ally of Josh and most of the rest of the group. He's very much the center of the group's attention, and tends to take advice from them. Main Sciencehead/Doctor. He is the usually the voice of reason when the group is in
