I looked on the web for some solutions (I read this one for example), but most of the examples I found use the complete RGB images which may not be the best way to extract the median value. The problem is that if I replace each pixel with its median value in the RGB image, I will get the image degraded to its median value. Is there any method to keep the original high quality image? Thank you very much for any suggestion. A: You can simply divide each channel's color vector by its median, then add the vectors together. This will give you a modified color vector. You need to ensure you treat each element (3 dimensional vector) as a point on 3D space. Then you can apply whatever transformation you want. Q: Showing binary images are surjective If $B(m,r)$ is the set of all binary images of size $m \times n$, then a) show that $B(m,r) \rightarrow S_2^m$ defined by $f \mapsto \chi(f(i,j))$ is surjective. b) For each $f \in B(m,r)$ let $a_f, b_f, c_f \in S_2^m$ be such that a_f is the top left entry of f , b_f is the bottom right entry and c_f is the top right entry. Show $c_f \equiv 0$ for all $f \in B(m,r)$ and $a_f \equiv 0$ and $b_f \equiv 0$. I am a little confused as to how to do (b). A: For part a), we need only show that the inverse is surjective. Now, consider the function $g \colon S_2^m \rightarrow B(m,r)$ given by
