“We’re incredibly excited about the introduction of HyperMotion Technology and the gameplay improvements it will bring to FIFA 22,” said Pierpaolo Bandini, SVP of Product at Electronic Arts. “Using motion capture data from actual players, we were able to develop a whole new gameplay engine that captures the feel of the real-life game and lets players experience even more moments of brilliance.” EA today also announced that the FIFA Ultimate Team Legends series will be getting one big change, with the Ultimate Team Legends Expansion coming on Dec. 6. This allows teams to take their Ultimate Team Legends from previous seasons and make them a few levels deeper, getting even better players available. FIFA 22 will be available on Xbox One, PlayStation 4, and PC on Oct. 27. On Xbox One, FIFA 22 can be pre-ordered via Amazon.com at a reduced price of $50 via Amazon.com. EA Access members can also pre-order at a discount. The new Xbox One features include: FIFA 22 Game of the Year Edition – You’ll have the choice between two covers: the Game of the Year Edition comes with a non-slip, graphical and metallic design from the original FIFA cover, as well as exclusive content included in a special FIFA 22 disk; and FIFA 22 Cup Edition comes with a non-slip, matte, graphical, metallic design and FIFA Club 20 Stadium Mini pack. Both covers are available in three sizes for Xbox One S and Xbox One X.
