Q: javascript create image tag I have a link that have path to image I need a script that will create a tag and put its link. So it will be like this: What is the best method for that? Possible without using jQuery. A: var img = document.createElement("img"); img.src = "../images/img.jpg"; document.getElementsByTagName("body")[0].appendChild(img); A: Try this $(document).ready(function() { $('#menu a').each(function() { var $link = $(this); $link.appendTo("#menu"); }); }); A: var img = document.createElement("img"); img.src = "../images/img.jpg"; document.getElementsByTagName("body")[0].appendChild(img); Neuroanatomical organization of the nucleus accumbens in the house mouse: connections with prefrontal cortex. Although several lines of evidence suggest that the nucleus accumbens (Acb) is involved in the regulation of the functioning of the prefrontal cortex, the distribution of its connections with the prefrontal cortex has not been studied in detail. Therefore, we investigated the Acb-cortex connections in the mouse. A small deposit of anterograde and retrograde tracer at the ventral border of the Acb of the mouse induced neuronal labeling in all four divisions of the prefrontal cortex (dorsal, lateral, medial and ventral) in sections of the frontal brain. Indirect evidence for an extrageniculate origin of the inputs in the ventral division of the prefrontal cortex was found. The results indicate that the Acb possesses abundant connections with the prefrontal cortex.Q: why std::map::find() returns the key's address and not the key's value? I

Tuesday, January 23, 2010 This has got to be one of the best movies I've ever seen in the theatre. It is true to life...it's real life for the most part, right down to the last punch to the face. Unbelievable. As I've said before, there is so much going on at once in The Wrestler, yet everything works. There are three primary performances that make this movie work. Mickey Rourke's performance, which is both truthful and yet shows how the common man can have one moment in his life when everything just goes wrong...but how he can get back up, stand tall and better himself for the rest of his days. Marisa Tomei's performance as Randy "The Ram", which I find to be a masterpiece, in which she shows what happens when the common man lives life by its lonesome and doesn't have anyone to help him through the tough times. And, to top it off, Robert Forster's performance as Al, who is the guy that provides Randy with a pair of eyes to see life for what it is and stand on his own feet. When I saw this movie at the theatre, it was a great experience. I felt like I was right there, I could see how the character's would feel, I could sense what they were thinking. I loved the movie, and it was a refreshing and realistic take on a traditionally uplifting, happy story. Friday, January 12, 2010 In my quest to become a musician and singer, I've discovered a few CDs that have played a significant role in making me the musician and singer that I am today. Here are some of the most influential CDs of mine: "Shut Up and Dance" (Kenny Chesney) - I got this CD from a girl at summer camp. I was in seventh grade at the time, and I just loved this CD (still does). It had all of the performances that I like, it had a good mix of pop and Christian, and Chesney is a pretty great singer. I thought everything about this CD was just perfect, so I picked it up and listened to it for years. "Kicking & Screaming" (Kanye West) - The first time I saw Kanye West was at this concert that was watched by over 30 people. I was so excited to see him because, as a singer and musician, I had followed his career. I grabbed a copy of the CD
