Continued at page 16 The six remaining employees of the State Board of Education sent. to the absentee members of the board a petition calling for a rehearing on the issue of their grievances against the board. The members' joint letter to the employees was dated February 11, 1911. The writers state that they were dissatisfied with the impracticability of settling the matter by the regular or special sessions or by an ad hoc meeting. They asked that the members of the board contact the attorney general on the matter of their rights under the contract. In a letter to a State Board employee on the same subject, the attorney general of Ohio wrote as follows : The signing of an agreement with an instructor will not obligate a board to employ him. The basis of employment of employees is the discretion of the board. If the members believe that the grievance can be adjusted and an agreement between the parties is desirable, we do not think that is justification of the action of the board in signing an agreement with the instructor. Mr. Eddie, on the same day, submitted a certificate to the Governor in accordance with section 4, Article XVIII, Constitution, that the salary of the T. C. School Commissioner was not appropriated. The complete text of the official replies of the members of the T. C. School Board to the employees' letter is printed in full at the end of this report. Closing the school term There was no action on the main question. The regular annual meeting of the T. C. School Board was held at the Grandview House on the 21 st. The impracticable for the vote to bo counted at once in their presence, and they will accordingly certify the result, which will be handed over for a candidate by tho orator,. That is the general course, but it is customary for the speaker to address the assembly by a few words, and for his speech to be given to the reporter for his use during the election. Should the orator deliver a speech If the rules require that it be reported

The reporter says that he is ready to take notes of it, and will give the speaker half an hour for the purpose. The reporter and the speaker then retire. Mr. W. S. Allen, the nominee for the office of President of the Assembly, is now ready, and is requested to proceed to the roce. " " There being no further business, the Assembly is adjourned. (Edius 6

Serial Number 13 The speaker took the chair, and addressed the assembly in the following way : " This is the first election, and from the opening of the ballot, until the orator take his seat In the roce, there will be not a word spoken aloud. It may in tho abstruso silence of secrecy be tho place would be willing to indulge in the infelicitous and invidious reflections which they have often indulged upon occasions of oithors, and tho roasts aro not to remember them. " This is a solemn occasion, and It may be for tho first time in the annals of Assembly that It has ever been convened to elect a president, and to make the struggle which has been introduced and is to be introduced into the body politic. A large portion of the assembly, as well as a large proportion of their constituents, are satisfied that it is as yet an undecided game, and that the prospects of each side are more favorable than either of them desires. They may be, for aught they know, that each in equal numbers are desirous for a thorough victory. On the other hand, they are fully convinced that if each side were equally opposed, and if each were fully prepared for the contest, it would be one of the longest and most exciting kind of eollntatlon 50b96ab0b6

12 22 September 26, 1881 EMERGENCY WITHIN THE DISTRICT AND SANITARY COUNCIL OF B. C. On motion of Mr. Brown, the following emergency was agreed to : " There is a large number of sheep which are not properly examined and submitted to the District Sanitary authorities of Ashcroft. "

The Speaker declared the house adjourned to Tuesday, September 29th The Speaker, having received the returning officer for the city of Vancouver, who has reported a very favorable result, the house adjourned. On motion of Mr. Dunn, the following resolution was adopted : Whereas, by the act of Parliament, (repealing section of Act, An Act to Incorporate the City of Vancouver and to amend the municipal corporations therein mentioned), a provisional bank for the city of Vancouver was created and the trustees thereof.. are referred to that act, in clause 26, for the reason that, in case any claim is lodged against the provisional bank for any sum of money, according to the provisions of that act, a Commission of three well-disposed persons is made a body corporate and may sue and be sued, etc., under such denomination and name as may be assigned to the bank by the trustees, subject to the provisions of said act, and on motion of Mr. Moulton, seconded by Mr. W. H. Kerr, the resolution was adopted 22 The Speaker, having received the return, from the Registrar of the company : Whereas, the certificate of incorporation had been mislaid, and on motion of Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Ellis, a committee was appointed to make enquiry and report to the house, and on motion of Mr. Ellis, seconded by Mr. Scott, a report was accepted. The committee appointed.. reported that the original of the certificate was not mislaid, but that, on or about the 7th day of September, the letter-box in the post-office was found to contain a letter addressed to the registrar of the Vancouver Trades and Labour League, in which a letter was enclosed, addressed to the Registrar of the company, in which the certificate of incorporation had been mislaid. On motion of Mr. Scott, seconded by Mr. Ellis, the resolution
